

PRESIDENT LOSES RACE WITH DEATH

COOLIDGE RETURNS TO NATIVE VERMONT TO BURY HIS FATHER

Party Conveyed In
Sleighs To Old
Homestead

By United Press
WOODSTOCK, Vt., March 19.—President Coolidge came back to his native Vermont hills today to bury his father.

After a night race to his father's bedside that was lost midpoint of the 500 mile run from Washington, a special train bore the President and Mrs. Coolidge, worn from lack of sleep and grief into the snow-banked Green Mountains on their mission of sorrow.

Upon arrival at 6:40 a. m. the Presidential party consisting of President and Mrs. Coolidge, their son John, Attorney General Sargent, Major Coughlin, secret service men and newspaper correspondents stopped at the Woodstock Inn for breakfast.

Just before going into the dining room it became known that the President might not go to Plymouth until tomorrow although more probably the trip would be made today.

The President has decided to make Woodstock his headquarters while in Vermont and soon after reaching the hotel he sent down to his car for his baggage.

Both he and Mrs. Coolidge wore black, but they gave no outward sign of mourning.

As many fur overcoats as could be found in Woodstock and all available pairs of galoshes were rounded up for use of the presidential party. Several automobiles were ready for the six mile motor ride to Bridgewater.

The last seven miles over snow depth must be made by sleigh and may require as much as two hours. In some spots along the twisting Vermont road snow is drifted to a depth of several feet.

The special train, as though realizing that the race had been lost, became later and later as Woodstock was neared. It was fifty minutes behind schedule, largely because of a hot box which developed at Springfield, Mass., when it puffed into this mountain village.

Another delay was encountered at Northampton, Mass. When a stop was made to permit John Coolidge, the President's son to board the train after a hurried trip from his university quarters at Amherst.

For more than an hour the train sped through the early night, its occupants ignorant that the long feared and awaited death had taken Colonel Coolidge.

Over the railroad telegraph wires had crackled this brief message from the White House:

"Ten forty two, Dr. Cram telephones the following: 'Your father passed away very quietly at ten forty one.'"

The message was copied at Bridgeport, Conn., and the train was flagged.

FAIR HELD AFTER YOUNG GIRL FOUND

COLUMBUS, O., March 19.—Mrs. Ethel Young, 34, and Paul H. Brown, 17, were both held today by police in connection with the finding of Miss Helen Pauline Hart, 16, high school girl, after five days, living in the rooming house owned by Mrs. Young. Brown was said to have been seen with the girl before she disappeared.

The girl was also held today by juvenile authorities pending trial next Tuesday. Her parents have been separated for years. Miss Hart was said to have been expelled from high school several days before her disappearance, and when her mother had broached plans to take her to Los Angeles, the girl had rebelled.

RAIL MERGER MAY BE PERMITTED SOON

CLEVELAND, O., Mar. 19.—(UP)—The interstate commerce commission objection to interlocking directorates was believed wiped away today at the announcement of O. P. VanSwearingen, head of the VanSwearingen interests that he had resigned as director and chairman of the board of the Nickel Plate railroad, thus paving the way for the ultimate merger of five railroads.

M. J. VanSwearingen was elected chairman of the board in his brother's place, breaking up, for the time being the interlocking directorates on the five roads they proposed to merge into one "greater Nickel Plate railroad."

EXPECT MORE DISCLOSURES OF SENSATIONAL NATURE IN STATE

Governor Will Investigate Records of Former
Deputy Examiner—Said To Have
Appropriated License Fees

By United Press
COLUMBUS, O., March 19.—More disclosures of sensational nature in the state departments were believed near today with the expected investigation of the departments of examiners and licensing of steam engineers and boiler inspectors.

The governor is shortly expected to investigate the records of F. E. Hoig, former deputy examiner for the Columbus district. Hoig, who was believed to have been asked to resign, after he was alleged to have admitted that he had not turned in "all of his license fees," left his office on January 15.

Persons close to the governor today believed investigation of Hoig's records and administration will be carefully conducted.

During the administration of a former governor, the departments of Boiler Inspector and Examiners and licensed were consolidated and it was said, to remove an official.

But with the advent of Gov. Donahey's second term as state executive, the two offices were again separated under two departments.

At present, C. O. Meyers, of Columbus, is the boiler inspector and A. L. Lindsay, of Cleveland, the state examiner for licensing of engineers.

Announcement of the Hoig investigation was expected to reveal information that Hoig was alleged to have appropriated fees

KRESGE SETTLES MARITAL TROUBLE

NEW YORK, March 19.—The marital and financial entanglements of Sebastian S. Kresge, chain store magnate and his pretty young wife, the former Doris Mercer, were settled out of court today.

Papers allotting Mrs. Kresge a considerable part of the wealth of her husband as amassed through the nickel, dime and quarter sales of his stores was signed in the offices of her attorney, Nathan Burkan, and it is believed a reconciliation may follow.

Mrs. Kresge's suit for 2500 shares of stock given her in a premarital contract is not due to be resumed until Monday and at that time details of the settlement will be public, probably will be made public.

OFFICIAL OF SALT COMPANY ARRESTED

COLUMBUS, Mar. 19.—J. R. Watkins, vice president of the Wadsworth Salt Co., of Wadsworth, who was arrested late yesterday on charges of obtaining money under false pretenses and with selling stock without a license, was taken to Dennison today by Justice of the Peace Fred Anthony, of that city.

Watkins was taken into custody under affidavits sworn to by C. E. Eckfeld, of Dennison. One of the information's charges him with declaring stock worth only $13 was worth $30, thus inducing investors to purchase.

When taken to the city jail, Watkins had $829 on his person.

paid by applicants for engineering licenses and had forgotten to turn some of them in.

This investigation would be in line with the administration's campaign to purge all state offices and officials of any alleged "misconduct of office" it was said.

SCHOOL BENEFITS FROM PERFORMANCE OF AMATEUR SHOW

Through the co-operation of the Xenia public, Orient Hill Parent-Teacher Association realized $110 from the benefit performance of "Sunbonnet Sue" with a local cast at Jean B. Elwell Auditorium, Thursday evening.

A large audience attended the show, which met with favorable comment on its premiere several weeks ago and which was repeated for the benefit of the Orient Hill organization.

Amusing and clever situations of "Sunbonnet Sue" were capably presented by the Misses Helen Hurley, Helen Reutinger, Ruth Negus and Messrs. William Spahr, George Perrell, Howard Jordan, Robert Spahr, Wendell Smith and Clark Eckerle.

Success of the piece is due to the expert direction of Mrs. Harry Shannon, Wapakoneta, O., who donated her services.

Money raised by the show will be used by the sponsors in purchasing playground equipment for Orient Hill School.

FAME SOUGHT OUT COL. COOLIDGE

CORNERED IN HILLS CRIPPLE WHO SLEW SIX KILLS HIMSELF

Anger Because Wife
Planned Divorce Cause
Of Murder

By United Press
SACRAMENTO, Calif., March 19.—With six murders charged against him, John M. Goins, a cripple shot himself to death during the night when finally cornered in the hills near Eldorado, Calif., by a posse headed by Captain C. F. Slettenback, a state highway traffic officer.

Suicide ended a wild career of murder which started when he shot to death in Stockton, Calif., three persons, then went to Galt, a nearby town, murdered three others in five minutes and fled.

The dead are:

Mrs. Goins, the murderer's wife; Mrs. George McNoble, wife of a prominent attorney; and Minnie Podesta, Mrs. Goins' sister, all killed at Stockton.

Alexander Marengo, Mrs. Marengo and Mrs. Mary Petro, killed at Galt.

Anger over his wife's intention to divorce him was believed to have led to the murders.

While officers were catching up the threads of the killings at Stockton, Goins fled to Galt, where he sought out the Marengo home and in five minutes had shot to death Marengo, his wife and daughter, while from the outside children looked on horror stricken.

Goins then fled from the town and up the Sacramento Valley, evidently bound for the rugged hills of the Placerville region foothills of the Sierras.

Near the old mining town of Eldorado, a posse of highway police and other officers overtook him and cornered there and with capture unavoidable Goins shot himself to death.

Goins was identified as the murderer by persons who saw him leaving the scenes of the shootings in Galt and in Stockton—he having been easily recognized on account of his halting step, due to the use of a wooden leg.

FARM WHERE DOUBLE MURDER TOOK PLACE INSPECTED BY JURY

Taking Of Testimony In
Clark Trial Is
Started

FREMONT, O., Mar. 19.—William Clark, 22, today heard additional testimony in the state's attempt to send him to the electric chair for the murder of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hoffman at their farm home near Helena on Feb. 6.

First testimony was heard late Thursday after the jury—obtained after four days, visited the Hoffman farm, where the slayings occurred.

It was there that Clark was said to have been found, looting the house, and killed the couple after he was recognized.

"Clark preferred robbery to asking his father for money," Sheriff William Wirt declared in statements sworn to on the witness stand. "On the day of the slayings he traveled from Cleveland to Toledo to ask his parents for financial aid. He was within a square of the place, where his father was employed when he lost his nerve and turned back."

The Hoffmans who formerly employed Clark as a farm hand, were shot and killed a few hours later. Wirt declared, again recounting the tragedy and telling how he went to Cleveland and arrested the youth.

REPORT OFFICIAL WILL QUIT RESULT OF PROBE

Say Lewis Will Not Be Re-instated as Fair Manager
—Tells of Award of Paint Contract To
High Bidder

By United Press
COLUMBUS, O., Mar. 19.—The ever-widening investigation of alleged irregularities in the state agricultural department's purchase of supplies and equipment for the state fair grounds, threatened to become still more extensive today following testimony given by G. R. Lewis, suspended state fair manager.

Early developments tended to give credence to reports that a prominent state official whose name has bobbed up throughout the inquiry will tender his resignation. At the same time it was reported semi-officially that Lewis will never be re-instated—that he will be asked for his resignation.

The probe was renewed today by State Auditor Tracy and Attorney General Crabbe, who were considering Lewis' charge that State Director of Agriculture Charles V. Truax had directed the award of a contract for 600 gallons of paint

IRRECONCILABLES MAY PREVENT ENTRY INTO WORLD COURT

Hope To Halt Move To Send Delegates To Geneva

WASHINGTON, March 19.—A plan has been devised by Senate "Irreconcilables" which may alter, if not actually prevent American participation in the world court of justice.

The move is prompted by action of the council of the league of nations in authorizing an invitation to the United States to meet with the council next September and explain reservations which the U. S. Senate attached to the resolution for American adherence to the court.

Although the invitation will be extended to President Coolidge direct, Senate "Irreconcilables" agree that he will have to seek authorization of congress for an appropriation to let commissioner go to Geneva. This would reopen the entire world court and League of Nations issues and irreconcilables have agreed they will stage a bigger battle than they did before. They believe there is no way for the president to act unless through authorization.

If the message for the appropriation is sent before June congress will be in recess until December and no authorization could be sought.

The irreconcilables are planning to beat upon the court and league issues in the Italian debt settlement which chairman Smoot of the Senate finance committee now says he will report Monday.

to the Empire Paint and Varnish Co., Cleveland, at a considerably higher price than other concerns bid.

"The Johnson Paint Company, Columbus, was the lowest bidder," Lewis testified, adding the Columbus company bid $1.70 a gallon whereas the Cleveland firm bid $2.30. A Mr. Beatty, representing the Cleveland company called several times to try to get the contract awarded and asked that his company be permitted to ship the paint without a billing, Lewis said.

Subsequently, Lewis declared a Mr. Hawkins, vice president of the concern, called on Truax regarding the contract.

"I was called in by Truax," Lewis said. "I told him the Cleveland Company could not be awarded the contract because it was the high bidder. Beatty suggested the bid could be changed. I said this couldn't be done. Truax wanted to know how the Empire Company could be given the contract and I said the only way was for it to fix the right price. The only way this could be done was to reject all original bids."

Lewis said Truax then instructed him to write a letter to the State Purchasing Department asking for new bids. This was done, he declared, and on the new bids the Empire Company was "fourth or fifth from lowest, bidding $2.35 a gallon."

Truax then "suggested" that he recommend awarding the contract to the Empire firm, Lewis declared, adding that he wrote Purchasing Agent J. P. Brennan accordingly.

The contract shortly thereafter, was awarded.

During his testimony, the attorney general inadvertently addressed Lewis as Truax.

"Don't call me Truax," Lewis interjected sharply.

Questioned concerning shrubbery purchases from the Trebor Weltz Company, of Wilmington, Lewis said he first met Charles Weltz when Charles A. Walker, assistant purchasing agent, brought him to his office and said that "any business given Weltz would be appreciated."

A few days later, Lewis declared Weltz was given a contract for $1991 worth of shrubs.

Brennan was also questioned at length concerning the release granted the agriculture department to purchase the shrubs without receiving competitive bids.

Brennan admitted the Weltz purchases were "dead wrong."

Weltz was recalled today for further questioning.

MARTIAL LAW TAKES EFFECT WHEN RIOTS BREAK OUT IN PEKIN

Seventeen Students Are
Killed During Demonstration

PEKIN, March 19.—Pekin virtually was under martial law today, following a deadly clash between armed members of the presidential guard and several thousand demonstrating students yesterday in which many students were killed.

Public meetings have been prohibited.

Students had planned an open air mass meeting today to demand the resignation of President Yuan Shi Kai and his expulsion from the country.

According to some reports of yesterday's clash the death toll now amounts to 33.

PEKIN, March 18.—(Delayed)—Bloody scenes occurred today during a clash between armed soldiers of the presidential guard and some thousands of boy and girl Chinese students who turned out to demonstrate against the government's conciliatory attitude with regard to the ultimatum of the foreign powers.

The American Legation was informed that seventeen students had been killed and from forty to one hundred wounded. The Chinese military authorities put the deaths at twenty-four including seven girls. The Rockefeller Institute treated sixty wounded and put twenty-seven of the more seriously injured to bed. Three of those died.

More than ten Chinese schools were represented in the noisy crowd of students which paraded and shouted demands to remove representatives of foreign powers from Peking.

The students began shouting for overthrow of the government. The soldiers assaulted them with sticks beating any they could reach. The presidential guard first fired in the air and then directly into the struggling mass and continued to fire as the students fled.

Legation guards were confined to their quarters to prevent an international incident. The Chinese authorities protected foreign homes outside the foreign quarter during and after the battle.

COLONEL COOLIDGE TAKEN WHILE TRAIN BEARS SON TO SCENE

Brave Struggle Is Ended
In Peaceful
Demise

By United Press
PLYMOUTH, Vt., March 19.—Plymouth, little village of Vermont, mourned today the death of its first citizen and patriarch—Colonel John C. Coolidge, father of the president of the United States.

Colonel Coolidge, after a brave struggle which really had lasted throughout the winter, died peacefully at 10:41 p. m. yesterday. His was no sudden death and there was no pain. For days life had been ebbing and finally it simply flickered out.

As he died his famous son was speeding through Connecticut on a special train, trying to reach his father's bedside in time for one more word with him—but in vain.

Death came to the President's father in the little farm house of the Coolidge homestead where a few years ago he had administered by the light of a flickering lamp

FUNERAL SATURDAY PLYMOUTH, Vt., March 19.—President Coolidge came to this little Vermont village today, where last night the President's father, Colonel John C. Coolidge, died.

The presidential party made its way over the snow-banked road from Woodstock where it arrived at dawn and came into Plymouth at 10:10 a. m.

A few minutes after arrival of the President it was announced by Major James F. Coughlin that the funeral of Col. Coolidge would be at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon from the Coolidge home.

The clergyman will be the Rev. Dr. John White, of Sherburne, the Coolidge family pastor and an Episcopalian.

The body will be buried in the cemetery which holds the remains of Calvin Coolidge Jr. and other members of Plymouth's leading family.

and on the family Bible of the Coolidges, the oath of office of President of the United States to his son, Calvin.

Until that hour Plymouth and Colonel Coolidge were almost unknown. Since that hour they have been written large in the news of the days that have passed.

All day yesterday the friends and neighbors of Colonel Coolidge waited for each bulletin from the bedside of their first citizen, but when the death was announced practically all of the 29 citizens who had kept the vigil around the general store had retired.

It was not until they began to drift into the quaint postoffice-general store this morning, stepping in for mail or to the store once favored by Col. Coolidge to warm hands and feet, chilled by a sharp Vermont winter's morning that the news gradually became generally known.

One of the first to be told was "Uncle" John J. Wilder, "Uncle" John and his wife "Aunt" Grace, are the closest relatives of the Coolidges in Vermont.

Wilder who is 79 years of age, immediately trudged across the street to his home where he imported the sombre tidings of the night to Aunt Grace.

"I'm sorry," he said simply. "I knew he was going but we all wanted him to stay with us until Calvin came."

This expressed the sentiment of the people of Plymouth and the surrounding snow-piled farm houses. The death of Col. Coolidge had been expected for several days and hence came as a poignant shock to none, although many mourn his loss.

The roughly clad folk who came to the store here and who considered the death of a beloved friend, or respected acquaintance in similar gathering places at such near-by villages as Union, Grahamville, Ludlow and Bridgewater, said much about the sterling qualities of the elder Coolidge which was a greater tribute than tears.

Everywhere he was praised for his rugged honesty, the conscientiousness with which he had accepted his delicate position as the father of a president and the intelligence and sound judgment he had displayed in advising his friends and in administering the affairs of Plymouth during a life

The Story of a Girl Who Took Life Into Her Own Hands

Copyrights, 1926, by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED

MARY WAITE shares two rooms with

CELIA STEWART, and works as a stenographer and general assistant in the office of

STANLEY BLAKE. Mary has few friends, but Celia goes out frequently in the evening, though she does not tell whom. Mary finds that Celia and Stanley see each other frequently, although Stanley is married. Mary goes to supper with PAT HAMILTON, whom she has met before but whose attentions she has refused because he is married, and sees Celia and Stanley at another table.

TODAY'S INSTALLMENT

XXIV—TROUBLE FOR MARY

CELIA went out alone the evening that she received the letter which Stanley Blake had written to her. She said nothing to Mary about where she was going, and Mary asked no questions. Celia looked wretchedly unhappy. She had not yet come home when Mary went to bed at eleven o'clock and it was long after midnight when she did arrive.

VIOLET DARE

Mary, pretending to be asleep, heard her get into bed, and later heard her crying, but did not dare try to comfort her. Celia was so queer that she would resent any such attempt, Mary told herself. Mary went to the office the next morning as usual. She was halfway through the day's mail when the telephone bell rang, so hard and insistently that somehow Mary was not surprised when the angry voice of a woman spoke to her over the wire.

"Hello? Is this Mary Waite? Well, this is Stanley Blake's wife—your employer's wife. And I want to tell you that I've stood all I can. Last night was too much—coming here to my home and demanding to see him! Why, you ought to be ashamed of yourself—saying that it was business when you might have known I'd know it was a lie. Now, I don't know where he is this morning, and I don't care. I'm going to divorce him, and I'm going to name you. I've got plenty of evidence. You've been seen dining with him in public time after time; he's spent a lot of time at the office when he should have been home; and I know he's spent it with you. I know that he's gone to your apartment—"

"Mrs. Blake! You're mistaken—" But Mary was given no chance to speak. Stanley Blake's wife was hurrying on.

"I've talked everything over with my father. I don't suppose you knew that he's Hubert Graham, one of the most influential men in town! Well, he is—it's the money he gave me when I was married that put Stanley Blake in business for himself. And it's that money he's been spending on you!"

"Now, for the sake of my little girl I don't want a scandal. If you'll leave town, at once, and promise not to come back, I'll keep all this out of the papers. But I'm not going to have you hanging around here—"

"Mrs. Blake—won't you please let me come to see you? I can convince you that you're wrong—I've had dinner with Mr. Blake just once, when it was necessary because of business—"

"Yes, I know all about dinners like that! And you've dined with him often—I've found that out. My own brother has seen you more than once! I may not get a divorce—why should I free him so that he can marry you? But you've got to leave town, or I'll raise such a scandal that you'll never live it down. I'll—"

Again Mary tried, but in vain to stem that torrent of words. She was girls like you two. I will say that I liked you better than I did her, always, and I'm sorry for you now. But you'll have to pay the rent just the same. And look here—I'm going to hold her furniture till I get it. You pay me half—I'll hold enough of her things to pay the rent."

"Couldn't you rent this room to someone else, and let me keep just the little room?" Mary asked. "That will be big enough for me—and I can't afford to keep both."

"Well, yes, I can do that—only you'll have to give me a week's notice on this one."

When she had gone Mary did not dare sit down and let herself think; the future was too black. She began at once to pack up all the things in the living-room that belonged to her, and moved them into the smaller, inside room that she and Celia had used as a living-room.

But when that was done there was nothing to do but face the future. Mrs. Blake had said that she must leave town at once. Mary did not know enough about the law to know whether Mrs. Blake could insist on that or not. Of course, to avoid having a scandal she would do anything that was possible—but it wasn't possible to go away! She had no money—nothing!

And then, suddenly, she remembered Pat Hamilton. He had told her once that he would do anything for her. He would know what she could do now.

She hated to turn to him. Yet he had been so nice the evening before, so friendly—and there was nobody else who could help her.

"I'll call him up," she decided. "He'll tell me what to do."

Tomorrow—A Friend in Need.

BUSINESS WOMEN HOLD VOCATIONAL MEET

Girls from senior classes of St. Brigid's and Central High Schools were given an insight into the workings of business life when they were graciously entertained by the Xenia Business and Professional Women's Club at the home of Miss Gladys W. Shadrach, N. Detroit St., Thursday evening.

Thirty-eight young women were received by club members. The gathering was the "vocational meeting" which is being observed by B. P. W. clubs over the country this week and was one of the most delightful enjoyed by local club members.

Covers were laid for 131 at dinner, which followed the reception of members and guests. Club members, invited guests and high school students were treated by means of green and white numbered cards given out by the hostess committee.

Hostesses for the evening were the Misses Florence Swan, chairman; Sarah Brewer, Bertha Hook, Edith Miller and Esther Welsh.

Tables in the banquet hall were effectively decked with a combination of St. Patrick's Day and Easter appointments. Green candles burned in yellow paper flower cups and others burned beneath shamrock shades, while streamers of yellow and green led down the center of each table combining with the napkins suggestive of the season.

A delicious two-course chicken dinner was served by the Pythian Sisters. During the dinner, various club songs were sung and the welcome song was responded to by a cheer from Central girls. The class song of the senior class from Central was sung by that group.

Miss Hazel Frost, dramatic teacher at the O. S. and S. O. Home, gave two readings.

After adjournment into the social room, Miss Henryetta Logan gave a short talk of welcome to the guests and Miss Barbara Little responded for the Central girls and Miss Mary Louise Purdom for the St. Brigid's class.

Carrying out the vocational program of the evening, three-minute talks were given by several members, representing various fields of work open to women. Talks were given by Miss Elsie Canby, court stenographer; Miss Helen Evers, public health nurse; Miss Elsie Webber, ready-to-wear buyer; Miss Edna Bloom, teacher; Miss Harriet Hardman, office head; Dr. Nancy Finney, physician; Mrs. Clara Reutter, insurance; Mrs. Lois Olcott, social worker; Miss Nellie McKay, newspaper profession.

Another "treat" on the program was the presentation of "Thursday Evening," by Christopher Morley, delightful one-act domestic comedy. Characters in the cleverly enacted play were Miss Elsie Canby, Miss Julia Wolf, Miss Helen Evers and Miss Alice Rinck. The play was enthusiastically received by the audience.

Regular business meeting of the club was dispensed with until the latter part of the evening, when routine reports were heard and various matters were discussed.

Rachel Bell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Brant Bell, S. Columbus St., is confined indoors with throat trouble. Her brother, Birch Bell, is still indoors after an illness of the past several days.

Miss Elsie Canby, Greene County court stenographer, has returned from Newcastle, Pa., where she has been visiting her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Dobbs.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul McKinney, whose marriage took place at the home of the Rev. Jesse Hawkins, last Saturday morning, are at home near Bellbrook. Mrs. McKinney was before marriage Miss Reba Reed, near Spring Valley. They took a short wedding trip after their quiet marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Tresslar, who have been visiting their daughter, Mrs. Walter D. Patton and family, returned Wednesday evening to their home on the Springfield Pike.

Mr. and Mrs. George Tribbey, Toledo, are announcing the birth of a daughter, Betty Jane, Monday. Mrs. Tribbey was before marriage Miss Edna Mitchner, of Lumberton.

Arens Class of Trinity M. E. Church will hold a meeting Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Miss Dorothy Devoe, S. Whiteman St. All members are urged to be present and bring their dues.

Mr. Howard Fields, who resides between Clinton and Wilberforce, was removed to McClellan Hospital, Thursday night and underwent an emergency operation for appendicitis. His condition is thought favorable.

Mr. Martin Yeakley, east of Troy, former Xenian, who underwent an operation for amputation of his left foot at Miami Valley Hospital, Dayton, Wednesday, is recovering satisfactorily. His wife is confined indoors suffering from a nervous breakdown. Mr. Yeakley is a brother-in-law of Mrs. Anna Yeakley, Whiteman St., this city.

Mrs. V. F. Brown's Class, Trinity M. E. Church will meet at the home of Mrs. Wilbur Street, E. Third St., Monday evening, March 22 at 7:30. Full attendance is desired.

SORORITY BIRTHDAY CELEBRATED THURSDAY

Fourth anniversary of Alpha Theta Chapter, Delta Theta Tau Sorority was celebrated by thirty-one members at the annual banquet at the home of Miss Gladys W. Shadrach, N. Detroit St., Thursday evening.

Green and white, sorority colors, were effectively employed by Miss Shadrach in the nut cups and bowls of white roses. During the tempting menu, Miss Olivia Cost, in presenting corsages to Miss Olive Huston, grand president of the sorority and Miss Frances Johnston, Xenia chapter president, gave a clever toast. Another toast was given to the patronesses by Miss Johnson.

Bridge was in play after the banquet.

GOLDEN WEDDING INVITATIONS OUT

Intimate friends moth in and out of the city have received invitations, issued Friday to the golden wedding celebration of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. LeSourd, E. Second St.

Invitations, handsomely engraved read as follows:

"1876 and 1926
Mr. and Mrs. S. Bennett LeSourd request the pleasure of your company on the fifth anniversary of their marriage

Tuesday, the thirtieth of March at six o'clock.

Xenia, Ohio."

The anniversary will be celebrated at a dinner, to which Mr. and Mrs. LeSourd are inviting their friends to share in the interesting event.

SORORITY CARD PARTY APRIL 1

Members of Alpha Theta Chapter Delta Theta Tau Sorority are selling tickets for a public card party to be given at the Shawnee Tea Shoppe, Thursday, April 1.

Each player will be assessed fifty cents. The affair is expected to attract a large crowd as previous parties given by the chapter have.

Miss Louise Baldner, secretary to School Superintendent H. C. Pendry, who has been confined to her home on E. Church St., for more than a week with an infected gland in her throat, has recovered and is able to be out-of-doors. She will resume her work the first of next week.

Mrs. William Young and daughter, Miss Natalie, who have been spending the past two months in and around Xenia, left Friday morning for a visit in Lansing, Mich., and Monmouth, Ill., before returning to their summer home at Lake Sunapee, New Hampshire.

Mr. Lyman Silver, Waynesville, who has been in Espey Hospital, this city in a critical condition after being shocked with electricity while on a telephone pole, several weeks ago, is showing some improvement, according to attending physicians.

Dr. W. R. McChesney, president of Cedarville College will deliver a Lenten address at First M. E. Church, Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. Dr. F. W. Stanton, pastor of that church, will go to Columbus where he will start a week's engagement at Glenwood M. E. Church.

The party was charmingly carried through and was one of the most delightful of the early Spring season. Bridge was in play after dinner and score prizes were won by Mrs. H. M. Owens, Mrs. O. J. Lowe, Mr. Elwood Dunkel and Mr. Foster Clemmer.

Miss Elsie Canby, Greene County court stenographer, has returned from Newcastle, Pa., where she has been visiting her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Dobbs.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul McKinney, whose marriage took place at the home of the Rev. Jesse Hawkins, last Saturday morning, are at home near Bellbrook. Mrs. McKinney was before marriage Miss Reba Reed, near Spring Valley. They took a short wedding trip after their quiet marriage.

O. E. S. PARTY CHARMING AFFAIR

Pleasant and delightful afternoon was spent at the Eastern Star party in the Masonic Temple, Thursday. The spacious room, furnished by Mrs. Elizabeth A. Hiller, was beautifully decorated with Easter tokens.

An entertaining program was enjoyed including a solo by little Miss Dorothy Coy and two selections by her sister, Elouise, Mrs. Ray H. Brannen delighted the audience with two comic readings.

When the game, "What Would the Wizard Say" was called all guests put aside their needlework and joined in with zeal. Mrs. H. E. Schmidt and Mrs. Fred Coy were winners in the "flower contest."

Late in the afternoon, delicious salad, blending in color with the Easter decorations was served with candy and coffee.

King's Herald and Home Guards, First M. E. Church, will meet Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the church basement. Members are asked to earn one or more nickles for the "buffalo round-up." All children of the church are invited.

Mr. Roy Sutton is confined to his home on S. Columbus St., with an attack of grip.

Miss Reva Spahr, who teaches school at Spring Valley, has been ill for several days with grip. Her place has been filled by Miss Florence Hartsock, Spring Valley.

PHONE RATE RAISE TO BE TWENTY FIVE CENTS HERE, SAID

Ohio Bell Telephone Co., proposed rate changes will add twenty-five cents per month to residence service in Xenia and a $1.50 increase per month on private branch exchange trunks. Business phone are unaffected by the proposed rate boosts.

Increases are noted in the rates to be charged for business and residence service in Yellow Springs but slight reductions are proposed for rural business and rural residence phones at the Yellow Springs exchange.

H. W. Cleaver, commercial manager for the company in Xenia, is still without definite official confirmation of the proposed rate changes, he said Friday.

Communication with the district office in Dayton failed to provide further knowledge or information on the rate boosts, he said.

Following are the proposed rate changes for Xenia and Yellow Springs:

Xenia—Increases per month as follows: Private branch exchange trunks, $1.50 to $3; residence, one-party, $2.75 to $3; residence, two-party, $2.25 to $2.50; residence four-party, $2 to $2.25.

Yellow Springs—Increase for each month: Business service, one-party, $3.50 to $4; business, two-party, $3 to $3.50; private branch exchange trunks, $5.25 to $6; residence one-party, $2.25 to $2.50; Decrease per month: Rural business, $3 to $2.50; and rural residence, $2.25 to $2.

Yellow Springs has no private branch exchange trunk service and the increase will not affect the village, according to the announcement Friday.

PEASANT DIES WHILE WITCH BATTLES WITH WIZARD OVER CAUSE OF ILLNESS

MOSCOW, March 1.—Witchcraft and sorcery still flourish in remote Russian villages and the word of the local wizard or witch is likely to count for more with the superstitious peasants than the influence of the priest or the doctor.

A contest between a witch and a wizard over the body of a dying peasant was recently reported from a village inhabited by Chuvashes, a Volga tribe which has only been recently and uncertainly reclaimed from paganism.

An old peasant, feeling very sick, sent for a doctor; but was immediately frightened by the threats of the local "shaman," or medicine-man, who threatened to bring immediate death on his head if he had anything to do with doctors.

The peasant through his wife sent presents to the wizard, whom he implored for aid in his sickness. The wizard, following the common practice in such cases, ascribed the disease to the evil influence of the peasant's neighbors and promised to cure the patient and punish the neighbors.

The neighbors fell into a panic and called in a rival power in the shape of a witch from a neighboring village. The witch arrived and a furious competition in sorcery set in. The wizard jumped wildly about in the peasant's room, professed to talk with the wind through the chimney and ran around the yard on all fours, mumbling mysterious words which were supposed to destroy his competitor.

Mr. Morgan St. John, Hill St., who has been seriously ill, following a stroke of paralysis, several days ago, was slightly improved Friday morning.

But the witch was fully a match for him in black arts. She relied on frog and cat bones, muttering incantations over them and varying this process by howling in an unearthly voice. Besieged by jump ing wizard and howling witch the poor peasant gave up the struggle for existence and died. The villagers, however regarded this as a great triumph for the witch, who was showered with gifts, while the discredited wizard was compelled to quit the village in disgrace.

Another village was haunted by a werewolf, which, it seems, was running about after dark in the shape of a pig, killing every one it met. Finally the young peasants sallied forth in the evening armed with clubs and pitchforks and beat to death the first pig they encountered. They were greatly disappointed, however, to find the body of the local wizard who they visited the next morning, bore no marks of the beating, as the superstition is that werewolves and wizards have some mysterious connection, which causes the latter to suffer any pains inflicted upon the former.

CHICAGO'S SHAME

SOME OF THE important civic organizations of Chicago appealed the other day to the United States Senate, through Vice President Dawes, to take some steps, through investigation and government agencies, to halt the crime wave which has engulfed that city. The request was unanimously ignored. Chicago was told to clean her own house and to redeem herself by her own efforts.

There are nearly 3,000,000 people in Chicago. It has long been noted for its energy, and imagination, and determination and for its civic spirit and progress. There are enough real Americans and high-minded citizens there, if organized and devoted to a single aim, to clean out the criminal element and to make the laws supreme.

But for the time, largely because of a large group of criminal aliens banded together for illegitimate gains and purposes of violence, the city is under the reign of the mob and the better element are terrorized. Bombings, murders, robberies, and all forms of desperate banditry have made Chicago a nest of criminals.

Those who have petitioned the government for assistance state the case as follows:

There has been for a long time in the city of Chicago a colony of unnaturalized persons hostile to our institutions and laws, who have formed a super-government of their own—feudists, black-handers, and members of the Mafia—who levy tribute upon citizens and enforce collection by terrorism, kidnapping, and assassinations.

This is a dark picture, but no darker than the reality. Business interests are becoming aroused because it is realized that such a reputation is injuring the city, and that it is keeping visitors and buyers away, and that it is warning those who have thought of Chicago as a home, against settling in a place where lawlessness has gone to such lengths that life and property are no longer safe.

While the government is correct in assuming that it is the duty of the people of Chicago to deal with the situation which they have permitted to develop, certainly much can be done to help through the immigration authorities. Criminal aliens when convicted can be deported, and there are thousands of them in Chicago who are now liable to such deportation, and who should be bundled out of the country as quickly as possible.

There has been enough energy displayed in the enforcement of this provision of the law. Chicago may properly demand that the government at least take care to eliminate this most undesirable element, so largely responsible for the conditions that are complained of, and that the smuggling of aliens into the country, a large majority of them of the same stripe, be stopped at any cost.

In the meantime, the best people of Chicago should make common cause against the organized gangsters in a strong and sustained effort to put down anarchy—for that is what the city has to deal with.

At the root of all the trouble, however, is corrupt politics, ruthless and predatory, kept alive and energized by partisanship that is suicidal in its imbecility.

RAILROADS OPTIMISTIC

DESPITE the pending wage demands by railroad trainmen and the legislation before Congress to force consolidation of the carriers, railroad men are very optimistic regarding the future. There is no reason to believe, they say, that the railroad improvement carried on since the termination of federal control will not continue.

There will always be railroad problems, they declare, but the major ones have been or are being rapidly solved. Railroad executives say there is a better understanding of the cost of service, and an increasing belief that rates are fair.

Railroad men say that a new era is coming in the sale of railroad securities and that financing by sale of stock to shippers and employees is not far off.

TRADE WITH GERMANY

THE TOTAL trade of the United States with Germany in 1925 amounted to $634,595,756, an increase of $54,919,370 over the 1924 figure, according to the European Division, Department of Commerce.

The gain in the exports to Germany amount to $29,926,282, and of imports $24,993,088. In 1924 the American trade with Germany represented 16.38 per cent of the total American trade with Europe, and in 1925 this percentage rose slightly to 16.52.

Of American exports to Germany, 43 articles each exceeded $100,000 in value and altogether totaled $410,342,707. Of that number, 28 commodities showed gains during the past year while losses were registered in the other 15. The most important gain was in cotton; exports to Germany of that commodity during 1925 amounted to $246,315,328, as compared with $223,503,127 in 1924, or an increase of $22,812,201.

It is pointed out that these figures are somewhat misleading because a considerable portion of this cotton is merely shipped to German ports with an ultimate destination other than Germany.

German trade figures show that during the past year, imports of American cotton for local consumption amount to 669,996,140 pounds, while American statistics indicate that 1,044,387,704 pounds of that commodity were exported to Germany, leaving the difference of 374,391,564 pounds as having been shipped through Germany to other countries.

DELICIOUS FUDGE

From time to time my Reader Friends write to ask me "just how" to make really delicious fudge. "Sometimes I succeed in making it well—and sometimes I fail," say many of these letters.

Fudge is ever-popular. It is not only the simplest to make of all candies when one once understands "just how," but its flavor and firm creaminess are appreciated by almost everybody. It is a "safe" candy to serve to guests, because it is not too hard for persons having trouble with their teeth (and many people are embarrassed by their inability to eat hard foods because of tender gums or aching teeth.)

Of course there is only one sure way to make fudge exactly alike each time you cook it—and that way is to own a candy-icing thermometer. The success of fudge depends upon its reaching the "soft ball" stage (238 degrees Fahrenheit) before it is removed from the range. While this stage can be determined by dropping a little of the hot sirup into a cup of cold water and feeling, with the fingers, to see if it forms a "soft ball" nevertheless it is always safest to use a thermometer. Here is the way I make it:

Fudge: I use an aluminum top of a small double boiler, measuring five inches in diameter across the top and having a depth of five inches. Into this I put two cups of granulated sugar, one cup of sweet cold milk, and two squares of unsweetened cake-chocolate finely shaved. I stir the mixture over direct heat, till the sugar and chocolate have melted somewhat, then

I add one tablespoon of butter, and let boil (without stirring) for 40 minutes—or till the thermometer registers 238 degrees. (Of course the thermometer, from the first moment of cooking, has been attached to the side of the pan, with its mercury beneath the surface of the cooking sirup.)

Remove at once from the fire, after reaching this soft-ball stage, and add one-half teaspoon of vanilla. Beat (in the same pan) for seven minutes, or till much stiffer, then turn into a square buttered pan measuring eight by eight in, across the bottom and let cool slightly before cutting into squares. FLOWERS

Whenever I pass by a florist's shop I am always lifted in spirit. As though a long absent friend should suddenly accost me, grasp my hand, and smile a regular string of cheer into my soul.

Flowers must have taken a great deal of thought on the part of the Great Creator, else He wouldn't have scattered this earth with such a variety of indescribably beautiful varieties. No matter where you go, you run into flowers that you have never heard of. Every different clime has its favorites. The arctic, the temperate zones, the tropics—all have their own flowers, suited best to their particular climate and setting.

"Say it with Flowers" really goes farther and deeper than its four words. There is before me as I write a blue container filled with flowers—brilliant reds, golden yellows, lavenders, and blues. I could sit alone for hours and hold a conversation with each beautiful, silent little friend. And then I could arise and go to whatever task I might have in view, stronger, happier and with a better vision.

Flowers are our greatest silent friends. I have walked in hospitals and seen the tired and suffering patients comforted and renewed in strength from the flowers before them.

I like flowers on birthdays and at all anniversaries. They are beautiful and wonderful at all times and occasions, but most of all they cheer when least expected. Flowers and pictures should always be in the home.

Yes, I do believe that white hyacinths feed the soul. I believe that all flowers feed the soul. And these souls of ours get very hungry at times and they don't thrive very well on irregular diets. If you want to show your appreciation of your friends, send some flowers—and hide a little note of love and cheer somewhere near the heart of the bouquet you send.

Red-Blooded Health for Thin Sickly Children

Children that are pale and listless and lack an abundance of rich red blood, should be given Coco Cod to invigorate their systems and give them bounding health and energy.

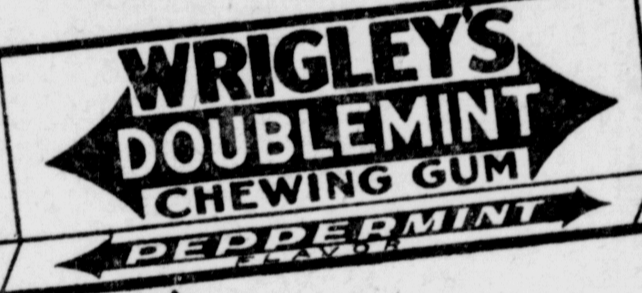

Coco Cod is pure cod liver oil with the health vitamins from yeast, eggs, lettuce and spinach flavored with pure cocoa to make it pleasant to take.

Physicians highly recommend Coco Cod for the treatment of rickets in children, malnutrition, for a general weak and undernourished condition. One doctor writes: "Have given Coco Cod to a five-year-old patient suffering from malnutrition. Three bottles showed surprising improvement. Children will take it because it is palatable."

Coco Cod provides healthy nourishment for young or old. Especially valuable for over-taxed mothers, convalescents, the anemic and undernourished. Quickly add strength and vitality and puts those who drag through life in the pep class.

Begin today—take Coco Cod for health. All druggists.—Adv.

MODISH MITZI—New? Of Course, If It's Mitzi

By JAY V. JAY

The lady holding the shoes is Cousin Mary, who is visiting Mitzi. Dear Cousin Mary has just commented on the fact that Mitzi's slippers with spike heels and two leathers combined are new. Just as though Mitzi didn't know it. Just as if Mitzi hadn't bought them because they were.

"Something else new, Mitzi?" asks dear Cousin Mary, waiting for Mitzi's confirmation. It's a clock with the face in one corner and the rest of it a Chinese design. Any one could see that it is new, about the newest things in clocks.

"My dear," squeals dear Cousin Mary, "I know this must be new." And Mitzi has resigned herself to "yesing." There's no use explaining that it is one of the round zipper bases of patent leather and that the handles are of pigskin.

Cousin Mary is leaving. Mitzi is not urging her to stay. Mary cannot resist saying as she goes: "I that a new dress?" And Mitzi gives her a final yes. New—as though everything that Mitzi has isn't new. As though any one should think Mitzi's belongings weren't. Mary had better go before she is urged.

ILLNESS COMPELS CANCELLATION OF GAME WITH EATON

An epidemic of colds and grip sweeping East High School has engulfed six regular members of the school basketball team forcing postponement of the post-season game with Eaton High at the local gym Friday night.

With nearly all the athletes laid up by illness, a hurried cancellation was made.

With recovery of members of the team expected quickly, plans are already under way to schedule a mid-week game with Eaton in Xenia next week, probably Wednesday night, it is announced.

Followers of East High's destiny on the court this season are eagerly awaiting the coming clash with the Probie County losers. Game is expected to prove the closest and most interesting of the current season.

XENIAN ARRESTED IN WILMINGTON FOR ALLEGED FORGERY

Edwin Shoemaker, 19, Xenia, was arrested by Police Chief Ben South of Wilmington Wednesday and is being held pending investigation into the alleged passing of a forged check at the W. P. McDermott grocery store in Wilmington last Saturday night.

Shoemaker is said to have admitted cashing the check forged with the name John Ellison.

Dressed in the attire of a farm hand, the Xenian entered the grocery Saturday and left a number of packages which he told McDermott he would return for later in the evening. He cashed a check for $22 with the proprietor drawn on the Citizens National Bank in Wilmington and departed. He failed to return for his packages.

The forgery was disclosed when it was discovered no man by the name of John Ellison carried an account at the bank.

Shoemaker and a companion whose name was not disclosed registered at a Wilmington Hotel Saturday and did not leave until Sunday afternoon. Xenia police have been asked to aid in conducting a search for the second youth who is believed to be implicated in the case.

Shoemaker's arrest came when he returned to Wilmington Wednesday and endeavored to persuade three Wilmington merchants to cash a similar check.

The youth has a police record and also served in the army for several years.

BOWLING

Side-line gossip is to the effect that next week will be a week of shakeups in the standing among the leaders in the city singles bowling tournament in progress on the Arcade alleys. Schedule will bring together many of the leaders in the three divisions.

Class A matches in the tournament were postponed Thursday night but unusually fine scores marked efforts of Class B and Class C pin pushers.

Earl Short turned in a nice 608 total to top three straight games from Pesavento in the Class B match, and Dan Jordan hung up a 235 score in the final brush while taking the odd game in three from W. C. Horner.

Class B results.
Pesavento 177 186 190
Short 213 195 200

Class C results.
W. C. Horner 145 166 182
D. Jordan 166 132 236

"SAVE MONEY AND LIVE WITHIN YOUR INCOME" IS PONZI'S EARNEST ADVICE

JACKSONVILLE, March 18— "Don't be deluded with stories of how Ponzi made easy money. Look at me. I am sitting on a volcano."

In these very words, Charles Ponzi, the diminutive financial manipulator advises young men to avoid short cuts to wealth.

"Peace of mind," Ponzi says, "is worth all the money in the United States Treasury."

The little dark eyed Italian affirms it was only to pay back the $2,000,000 obligations of his first venture that he came to Florida to start his second "get rich-quick" scheme in Florida real estate.

"That is why I must keep trying for big money," he says. "Only the power of money can save me."

Ponzi's advice to young men is: "Be satisfied with your salary and learn to live within your income. Put part of your wages in the bank and keep building up the bank account. Don't draw out your money to take a plunge for quick wealth. Don't try to get rich quick."

NEW YORK, March 18—Jack Dempsey puts a fancy price on his service which he asks $100,000 down and a guarantee of $50,000 more for defending his heavyweight championship against Harry Wills.

You will hear repeated the old protest that such a sum is such and such times what the president of the United States gets for a year in one of the most responsible positions in the world.

Perhaps that rate of pay is out of all proportion with the time involved but you can't shoot a fellow for trying and it can't be denied that Dempsey is entitled to a fair percentage of what his appearance would draw at the gate.

Tex Rickard made an estimate recently that the Dempsey-Wills match, if it could be staged under favorable conditions without interference might draw as much as $2,000,000.

Some critics claim that it would be a bad fight and the public would not be interested but that isn't logical. The public always will be interested in a heavyweight championship fight and the attendance would be restricted only by the number of seats that would be available.

Mike Suzanne Lengien, the French tennis queen, announced recently that she had been offered $20,000 by an American promoter to engage in a professional match in this country.

HELP YOURSELF TO HEALTH

Tired in the morning—tired all day

IN THE morning when vitality should be at its peak, she was listless, tired, aching in head and heart. She was young, yet she was defeated. The cold, vile hand of constipation was dragging her down, destroying her health, robbing her beauty and charm. Women! be rid of constipation. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is the sure, safe, pleasant way.

When Kellogg's ALL-BRAN travels through the system, its fiber remains unchanged. It can absorb and carry moisture through the intestinal tract and stimulate it to natural, healthy action. ALL-BRAN is what doctors call a bulk food.

Its delightful nutty flavor makes it good as a cereal. Serve with milk or cream or with fresh or preserved fruit; sprinkle over other cereals or cook with hot cereals; use in soups, or make into the many recipes given on every package. If eaten regularly, it is guaranteed to bring permanent relief or the grocer returns the purchase price. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. It is a 100% bran product.

Kellogg's is the original and only ALL-BRAN. All grocers sell it. Leading hotels and restaurants serve it. Buy a package of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN today.

YELLOW SPRINGS

SO TOURNEY PASSES

The annual Greene County high school basketball tournament opened at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon in Kelly Hall, Andoch College. The Yellow Springs high school girls' basketball team played Beaver Creek that afternoon. The score being 12 to 14 in favor of Beaver Creek. This was a great disappointment to the Yellow Springs team and their friends. They had played so well all year, not losing a game until the tournament when Beaver Creek beat them. The Yellow Springs boys were defeated by Bath team. The tournament closed Saturday evening. The cups which were given to the winners were carried off by Ross Township boys' and Beaver Creek Township girls' teams.

Correct weight can be yours
be shapely!

"I DO NOT want to be thin! I just want to be my right weight! I want these hollows filled out. I just want enough firm, plump flesh on my bones to fill out my figure." Of course you do. You want a figure that you can drape your clothes on—not just hang them on! What's the use of having pretty clothes, if they just hang on you?

And what would you say if you were told you could have the figure you want? A graceful, well rounded body—firm, solid flesh—just enough—just your right weight? You'd be mighty happy, wouldn't you?

Well, then, be happy—because you can have it! Put plenty of red cells in your blood and watch your weight go up to where you want it! That's what the matter with you! Your blood is impoverished. You need more rich, red blood. S. S. S. is the thing to put red blood in your system. S. S. S. helps Nature build red-blood cells by the millions.

You just try S. S. S. and watch how quickly you begin to fill out your clothes. Notice your skin clear of unsightly blemishes—your appetite increase—strength come to flabby muscles and vim and vigor fill your whole system.

It's red blood that does it. And S. S. S. surely helps Nature build that red blood. S. S. S. is sold by all drug stores. The larger bottle is more economical.

PRESIDENT LOSES RACE WITH DEATH

COOLIDGE RETURNS TO NATIVE VERMONT TO BURY HIS FATHER

Party Conveyed In
Sleighs To Old
Homestead

By United Press
WOODSTOCK, Vt., March 19.—President Coolidge came back to his native Vermont hills today to bury his father.

After a night race to his father's bedside that was lost midpoint of the 500 mile run from Washington, a special train bore the President and Mrs. Coolidge, worn from lack of sleep and grief into the snow-banked Green Mountains on their mission of sorrow.

Upon arrival at 6:40 a. m. the Presidential party consisting of President and Mrs. Coolidge, their son John, Attorney General Sargent, Major Coughlin, secret service men and newspaper correspondents stopped at the Woodstock Inn for breakfast.

Just before going into the dining room it became known that the President might not go to Plymouth until tomorrow although more probably the trip would be made today.

The President has decided to make Woodstock his headquarters while in Vermont and soon after reaching the hotel he sent down to his car for his baggage.

Both he and Mrs. Coolidge wore black, but they gave no outward sign of mourning.

As many fur overcoats as could be found in Woodstock and all available pairs of galoshes were rounded up for use of the Presidential party. Several automobiles were ready for the six mile motor ride to Bridgewater.

The last seven miles over snow depth must be made by sleigh and may require as much as two hours. In some spots along the twisting Vermont road snow is drifted to a depth of several feet.

The special train, as though realizing that the race had been lost, became later and later as Woodstock was neared. It was fifty minutes behind schedule, largely because of a hot box which developed at Springfield, Mass., when it puffed into this mountain village.

Another delay was encountered at Northampton, where when a sleigh, the President's son to board the train after a hurried trip from his university quarters at Amherst.

For more than an hour the train sped through the early night, its occupants ignorant that the long feared and awaited death had taken Colonel Coolidge.

Over the railroad telegraph wires had crackled this brief message from the White House:

"Ten forty two, Dr. Cram telephones the following: 'Your father passed away very quietly at ten forty one.'"

The message was copied at Bridgeport, Conn., and the train was flagged.

PAIR HELD AFTER YOUNG GIRL FOUND

COLUMBUS, O., March 19.—Mrs. Ethel Young, 34, and Paul H. Brown, 17, were both held today by police in connection with the finding of Miss Helen Pauline Hart, 16, high school girl, after five days' living in the rooming house owned by Mrs. Young. Brown was said to have been seen with the girl before she disappeared.

The girl was also held today by juvenile authorities, pending trial next Tuesday. Her parents have been separated for years. Miss Hart was said to have been expelled from high school several days before her disappearance, and when her mother had broached plans to take her to Los Angeles, the girl had rebelled.

RAIL MERGER MAY

CLEVELAND, O., Mar. 19.—(UP)—The interstate commerce commission objection to interlocking directorates was believed wiped away today at the announcement of O. P. VanSweringen, head of the VanSweringen interests that he had resigned as director and chairman of the board of the Nickel Plate railroad, thus paving the way for the ultimate merger of five railroads.

M. J. VanSweringen was elected chairman of the board in his brother's place, breaking up, for the time being, the interlocking directorates on the five roads they proposed to merge into one "great" Nickel Plate railroad.

EXPECT MORE DISCLOSURES OF SENSATIONAL NATURE IN STATE

Governor Will Investigate Records of Former
Deputy Examiner—Said To Have
Appropriated License Fees

By United Press
COLUMBUS, O., March 19.—More disclosures of sensational nature in the state departments were believed near today with the expected investigation of the departments of examiners and licensing of steam engineers and boiler inspectors.

The governor is shortly expected to investigate the records of F. E. Hoig, former deputy examiner for the Columbus district. Hoig, who was believed to have been asked to resign, after he was alleged to have admitted that he had not turned in "all of his license fees," left his office on January 15.

Persons close to the governor today believed investigation of Hoig's records and administration will be carefully conducted.

During the administration of a former governor, the departments of Boiler Inspector and Examiners and Licensed were consolidated. It was said, to remove an official.

But with the advent of Gov. Donahy's second term as state executive, the two offices were again separated under two departments.

At present, C. O. Meyers, of Columbus, is the boiler inspector and A. L. Lindsay, of Cleveland, the state examiner for licensing of engineers.

Announcement of the Hoig investigation was expected to reveal information that Hoig was alleged to have appropriated fees paid by applicants for engineering licenses and had forgotten to turn some of them in.

This investigation would be in line with the administration's campaign to purge all state offices and officials of any alleged "misconduct of office" it was said.

SHOOTS WIFE DURING QUARREL;
TRIES SUICIDE TO EVADE ARREST

Youth Who Runs Away Because of Parents' Bickering Precipitates Near-Fatal Domestic Quarrel.

HAMILTON, O., March 19.—Surrounded in a downtown street after shooting his wife, Iele, 28, C. O. Free, 40, shot himself in the head today.

Free was taken to a hospital and with his wife, who was believed critically wounded, was taken into an operating room.

The couple quarreled during the night after their son, James, 9, ran away, according to police.

The boy fled, police declared, because he could not stand the constant bickering between his father and mother.

Neighbors who heard the shot when Free wounded his wife, notified police who surrounded him on a downtown street.

The quarrel had been carried on for weeks, police declared. Last night when it was resumed the boy told his mother:

"Mama, I can't stand it any longer. If you don't stop I'm going to jump into the canal."

A few moments later he slipped from the house and disappeared. The parents joined police in dragging the canal and returned home at 4 a. m. and were met by neighbors who said the boy spent the night with them. The quarrel was again resumed and found its climax when Mrs. Free was shot through the breast and Free shot himself.

Physicians said they believed both would die.

CORNERED IN HILLS CRIPPLE WHO SLEW SIX KILLS HIMSELF

Anger Because Wife
Planned Divorce Cause
Of Murder

By United Press
SACRAMENTO, Calif., March 19.—With six murders charged against him, John M. Goins, a cripple shot himself to death during the night when finally cornered in the hills near Eldorado, Calif., by a posse headed by Captain C. F. Slettenback, a state highway traffic officer.

Suicide ended a wild career of murder which started when he shot to death in Stockton, Calif., three persons, then went to Galt, a nearby town, murdered three others in five minutes and fled.

The dead are: Mrs. Goins, the murderer's wife; Mrs. George McNoble, wife of a prominent attorney; and Minnie Podesta, Mrs. Goins' sister, all killed at Stockton.

Alexander Marengo, Mrs. Marengo and Mrs. Mary Petro, killed at Galt.

Anger over his wife's intention to divorce him was believed to have led to the murders.

While officers were catching up the threads of the killings at Stockton, Goins fled to Galt, where he sought out the Marengo home and in five minutes had shot to death Marengo, his wife and daughter, while from the outside children looked on horror stricken.

Goins then fled from the town and up the Sacramento Valley, evidently bound for the rugged hills of the Placerville region foothills of the Sierras.

Near the old mining town of Eldorado, a posse of highway police and other officers overtook him and cornered there and with capture unavoidable Goins shot himself to death.

Goins was identified as the murderer by persons who saw him leaving the scenes of the shootings in Galt and in Stockton—he having been easily recognized on account of his halting step, due to the use of a wooden leg.

Taking Of Testimony In
Clark Trial Is
Started

FREMONT, O., Mar. 19.—William Clark, 22, today heard additional testimony in the state's attempt to send him to the electric chair for the murder of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hoffman at their farm home near Helena on Feb. 6.

First testimony was heard last Thursday after the jury—obtained after four days' visit to the Hoffman farm, where the slayings occurred.

It was there that Clark was said to have been found, looting the house, and killed the couple after he was recognized.

"Clark preferred robbery to asking his father for money," Sheriff William Wirt declared in state's efforts to send him to the witness stand. "On the day of the slayings he traveled from Cleveland to Toledo to ask his parents for financial aid. He was within a square of the place, where his father was employed when he lost his nerve and turned back."

The Hoffmans who formerly employed Clark as a farm hand, were shot and killed a few hours later, Wirt declared, again recounting the tragedy and telling how he went to Cleveland and arrested the youth.

REPORT OFFICIAL WILL QUIT RESULT OF PROBE

Say Lewis Will Not Be Re-instated as Fair Manager
—Tells of Award of Paint Contract To
High Bidder

By United Press
COLUMBUS, O., Mar. 19.—The ever-widening investigation of alleged irregularities in the state agricultural department's purchase of supplies and equipment for the state fair grounds, threatened to become still more extensive today following testimony given by G. R. Lewis, suspended state fair manager.

Early developments tended to give credence to reports that a prominent state official whose name has bobbed up throughout the inquiry will tender his resignation. At the same time it was reported semi-officially that Lewis will never be re-instated—that he will be asked for his resignation.

The probe was renewed today by State Auditor Tracy and Attorney General Crabbe, who were considering Lewis' charge that State Director of Agriculture Charles V. Truax directed the award of a contract for 600 gallons of paint to the Empire Paint and Varnish Co., Cleveland, at a considerably higher price than other concerns bid.

"The Johnson Paint Company, Columbus, was the lowest bidder," Lewis testified, adding the Columbus company bid $1.70 a gallon whereas the Cleveland firm bid $2.30. A Mr. Beatty, representing the Cleveland company called several times to try to get the contract awarded and asked that his company be permitted to ship the paint without a billing, Lewis said.

Subsequently, Lewis declared a Mr. Hawkins, vice president of the concern, called on Truax regarding the contract.

"I was called in by Truax," Lewis said. "I told him the Cleveland Company could not be awarded the contract because it was the high bidder. Beatty suggested the bid could be changed. I said this could not be done. Truax wanted to know how the Empire Company could be given the contract and I said the only way was for it to fix the right price. The only way this could be done was to reject all original bids."

Lewis said Truax then instructed him to write a letter to the State Purchasing Department asking for new bids. This was done, he declared, and on the new bids the Empire Company was "fourth or fifth from lowest, bidding $2.35 a gallon."

Truax then "suggested" that he recommend awarding the contract to the Empire firm, Lewis declared, adding that he wrote Purchasing Agent J. P. Brennan accordingly.

The contract shortly thereafter, was awarded.

During his testimony, the attorney general inadvertently addressed Lewis as "Truax."

"Don't call me Truax," Lewis interjected sharply.

Questioned concerning shabby purchases from the Trebor Weltz Company, of Wilmington, Lewis said he first met Charles Weltz when Charles A. Walker, assistant purchasing agent, brought him to his office and said that "any businessness given Weltz would be appreciated."

A few days later, Lewis declared Weltz was given a contract for $1991 worth of shrubs.

Brennan was also questioned at length concerning the release grant of the agriculture department to purchase the shrubs without receiving competitive bids.

Brennan admitted the Weltz purchases were "dead wrong."

Weltz was recalled today for further questioning.

MARTIAL LAW TAKES EFFECT WHEN RIOTS
BREAK OUT IN PEKIN

Seventeen Students Are
Killed During Demonstration

PEKIN, March 19.—Pekin virtually was under martial law today, following a deadly clash between armed members of the presidential guard and several thousand demonstrators yesterday in which many students were killed.

Public meetings have been prohibited.

Students had planned an open air mass meeting today to demand the resignation of President Yuan Shi Kai and his expulsion from the country.

According to some reports of yesterday's clash the death toll now amounts to 33.

Bloody scenes occurred today during a clash between armed soldiers of the presidential guard and some thousands of boy and girl Chinese students who turned out to demonstrate against the government's conciliatory attitude with regard to the ultimatum of the foreign powers.

The American Legation was informed that seven students had been killed and from forty to one hundred wounded. The Chinese military authorities put the deaths at twenty-four including seven girls. The Rockefeller Institute treated sixty wounded and put twenty seven of the more seriously injured to bed. Three of those died.

More than ten Chinese schools were represented in the noisy crowd of students which paraded and shouted demands to remove representatives of foreign powers from Peking.

The students began shouting for overthrow of the government. The soldiers assaulted them with sticks beating any they could reach. The presidential guard first fired in the air and then directly into the struggling mass and continued to fire as the students fled.

Legation guards were confined to their quarters to prevent an international incident. The Chinese authorities protected foreign homes outside the foreign quarter during and after the battle.

COLONEL COOLIDGE TAKEN WHILE TRAIN BEARS SON TO SCENE

Brave Struggle Is Ended
In Peaceful
Demise

By United Press
PLYMOUTH, Vt., March 19.—Plymouth, little village of Vermont, mourned today the death of its first citizen and patriarch—Colonel John C. Coolidge, father of the president of the United States.

Colonel Coolidge, after a brave struggle which really had lasted throughout the winter, died peacefully at 10:41 p. m. yesterday. His was no sudden death and there was no pain. For days life had been ebbing and finally it simply flickered out.

As he died his famous son was speeding through Connecticut on a special train, trying to reach his father's bedside in time for one more word with him—but in vain.

Death came to the President's father in the little farm house of the Coolidge homestead where a few years ago he had administered by the light of a flickering lamp

the presidential party made its way over the snow-banked road from Woodstock where it arrived at dawn and came into Plymouth at 10:10 a. m.

A few minutes after arrival of the President it was announced by Major James F. Coughlin that the funeral of Col. Coolidge would be at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon from the Coolidge home.

The clergyman will be the Rev. Dr. John White, of Sherburne, the Coolidge family pastor and an Episcopalian.

The body will be buried in the cemetery which holds the remains of Calvin Coolidge Jr. and other members of Plymouth's leading family.

and on the family Bible of the Coolidges, the oath of office of President of the United States to his son, Calvin.

Until that hour Plymouth and Colonel Coolidge were almost unknown. Since that hour they have been written large in the news of the days that have passed.

All day yesterday the friends and neighbors of Colonel Coolidge waited for each bulletin from the bedside of their first citizen, but when the death was announced practically all of the 29 citizens who had kept the vigil around the general store had retired.

It was not until they began to drift into the quaint postoffice-general store this morning, stepping in for mail or to the stove once favored by Col. Coolidge to warm hands and feet, chilled by a sharp Vermont winter's morning that the news gradually became generally known.

One of the first to be told was "Uncle" John J. Wilder, "Uncle" John and his wife "Aunt" Grace, are the closest relatives of the Coolidges in Vermont.

Wilder who is 79 years of age, immediately trudged across the street to his home where he imported the sombre tidings of the night to Aunt Grace.

"I'm sorry," he said simply. "I knew he was going but we all wanted him to stay with us until Calvin came."

This expressed the sentiment of the people of Plymouth and the surrounding snow-piled farm houses, for the death of Col. Coolidge had hence came as a poignant shock to none, although many mourn his loss.

The roughly clad folk who came to the store here and who considered the death of a beloved friend or respected acquaintance in similar gathering places at such nearby villages as Union, Grahamville, Ludlow and Bridgewater, said much about the sterling qualities of the elder Coolidge which was a greater tribute than tears.

Everywhere he was praised for his rugged honesty, the conscientiousness with which he had accepted his delicate position as the father of a president and the intelligence and sound judgment he had displayed in advising his friends and in administering the affairs of Plymouth during a life

Girls from senior classes of St. Brigid's and Central High Schools were given an insight into the workings of business life when they were graciously entertained by the Xenia Business and Professional Women's Club at Knights of Pythias Hall, Thursday evening.

Thirty-eight young women were received by club members. The gathering was in the "vocational meeting" which is being observed by B. P. W. clubs over the country this week and was one of the most delightful enjoyed by local club members.

Covers were laid for 131 at dinner, which followed the reception of members and guests. Club members, invited guests and high school students were seated by means of green and white numbered cards given out by the hostess committee. Hostesses for the evening were the Misses Florence Swan, chairman; Sarah Brewer, Bertha Hook, Edith Miller and Esther Welsh.

Tables in the banquet hall were effectively decked with a combination of St. Patrick's Day and Easter appointments. Green candles burned in yellow paper flower cups and others burned beneath shamrock shades, while streamers of yellow and green led down the center of each table combining with the napkins suggestive of the season.

A delicious two-course chicken dinner was served by the Pythian Sisters. During the dinner, various club songs were sung and the welcome song was responded to by a cheer from Central girls. The class song of the senior class from Central was sung by that group. Miss Hazel Frost, dramatic teacher at the O. S. and S. O. Home, gave two readings.

After adjournment into the social room, Miss Henryetta Logan gave a short talk of welcome to the guests and Miss Barbara Little responded for the Central girls and Miss Mary Louise Purdom for the St. Brigid's class.

Carrying out the vocational program of the evening, three-minute talks were given by several members, representing various fields of work open to women. Talks were given by Miss Elsie Canby, court stenographer; Miss Helen Evers, public health nurse; Miss Elsie Webber, ready-to-wear buyer; Miss Edna Bloom, teacher; Miss Harriet Hardman, office head; Dr. Nancy Flinn, physician; Mrs. Clara Reutlinger, insurance; Mrs. Lois Olcott, social worker; Miss Nellie McKee, newspaper professor.

Another "treat" on the program was the presentation of "Thursday Evening," by Christopher Morley, delightful one-act domestic comedy. Characters in the cleverly enacted play were Miss Elsie Canby; Miss Julia Wolf, Miss Helen Evers and Miss Alice Rinck. The play was enthusiastically received by the audience.

Regular business meeting of the club was dispensed with until the later part of the evening, when routine reports were heard and various matters were discussed.

DINNER AND CARDS AT PARTY THURSDAY

Attorney and Mrs. F. L. Johnson hospitably entertained twenty-four guests at dinner and cards at their home on N. Galloway St., Thursday evening.

The party was charmingly carried through and was one of the most delightful of the early Spring season. Bridge was in play after dinner and score prizes were won by Mrs. H. M. Owens, Mrs. O. J. Lowe, Mr. Elwood Dunkel and Mr. Foster Clemmer.

Rachel Bell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Brant Bell, S. Columbus St., is confined indoors with throat trouble. Her brother, Birch Bell, is still indoors after an illness of the past several days.

Miss Elsie Canby, Greene County court stenographer, has returned from Newcastle, Pa., where she has been visiting her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Dobbs.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul McKinney, whose marriage took place at the home of the Rev. Jesse Hawkins, last Saturday morning, are at home near Bellbrook. Mrs. McKinney was before marriage Miss Reba Reed, near Spring Valley. They took a short wedding trip after their quiet marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Tresslar, who have been visiting their daughter, Mrs. Walter D. Patton and family, returned Wednesday evening to their home on the Springfield Pike.

Mr. and Mrs. George Tribbey, Toledo, are announcing the birth of a daughter, Betty Jane, Monday, Mrs. Tribbey was before marriage Miss Edna Mitchner, of Lumberton.

Arens Class of Trinity M. E. Church will hold a meeting Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Miss Dorothy Devos, S. Whiteman St. All members are urged to be present and bring their dues.

Mr. Howard Fields, who resides between Clifton and Wilberforce, was removed to McClellan Hospital, Thursday night and underwent an emergency operation for appendicitis. His condition is thought favorable.

Mr. Martin Yeakley, east of Troy, former Xenian, who underwent an operation for amputation of his left foot at Miami Valley Hospital, Dayton, Wednesday, is recovering satisfactorily. His wife is confined indoors suffering from a nervous breakdown. Mr. Yeakley is a brother-in-law of Mrs. Anna Yeakley, Whiteman St., this city.

Mrs. V. F. Brown's Class, Trinity M. E. Church will meet at the home of Mrs. Wilbur Street, E. Third St., Monday evening, March 22 at 7:30. Full attendance is desired.

O. E. S. PARTY CHARMING AFFAIR

Pleasant and delightful afternoon was spent at the Eastern Star party in the Masonic Temple, Thursday. The spacious room, furnished by Mrs. Elizabeth A. Hiller, was beautifully decorated with Easter tokens.

An entertaining program was enjoyed including a solo by little Miss Dorothy Coy and two selections by her sister, Elouise. Mrs. Ray H. Brannen delighted the audience with two comic readings.

When the game, "What Would the World Say" was called all guests put aside their needlework and joined in with zeal. Mrs. H. E. Schmidt and Mrs. Fred Coy were winners in the "flower contest."

Late in the afternoon, delicious salad, blending in color with the Easter decorations was served with candy and coffee.

King's Heralds and Home Guards, First M. E. Church, will meet Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the church basement. Members are asked to earn one or more nickles for the "buffalo round-up." All children of the church are invited.

Mr. Roy Sutton is confined to his home on S. Columbus St., with an attack of grip.

Miss Reva Spahr, who teaches school at Spring Valley, has been ill for several days with grip. Her place has been filled by Miss Florence Hartsook, Spring Valley.

1876

Mr. and Mrs. S. Bennett LeSourd request the pleasure of your company on the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage.

Tuesday, the thirtieth of March at six o'clock.

Xenia, Ohio.

The anniversary will be celebrated at a dinner, to which Mr. and Mrs. LeSourd are inviting their friends to share in the interesting event.

SORORITY CARD PARTY APRIL 1

Members of Alpha Theta Chapter Delta Theta Tau Sorority are selling tickets for a public card party to be given at the Shawnee Tea Shoppe, Thursday, April 1.

Each player will be assessed fifty cents. The affair is expected to attract a large crowd as previous parties given by the chapter have.

Miss Louise Baldner, secretary to School Superintendent H. C. Pendry, who has been confined to her home on E. Church St., for more than a week with an infected gland in her throat, has recovered and is able to be out-of-doors. She will resume her work the first of next week.

Mrs. William Young and daughter, Miss Natalie, who have been spending the past two months in and around Xenia, left Friday morning for a visit in Lansing, Mich., and Monmouth, Ill., before returning to their summer home at Lake Sunapee, New Hampshire.

Mr. Lyman Silver, Waynesville, who has been in Espey Hospital, this city in a critical condition after being shocked with electricity while on a telephone pole, several weeks ago, is showing some improvement, according to attending physicians.

Dr. W. R. McChesney, president of Cedarville College will deliver a Lenten address at First M. E. Church, Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. Dr. F. W. Stanton, pastor of that church, will go to Columbus where he will start a week's engagement at Glenwood M. E. Church.

PEASANT DIES WHILE WITCH BATTLES WITH WIZARD OVER CAUSE OF ILLNESS

MOSCOW, March 4.—Witchcraft and sorcery still flourish in remote Russian villages and the word of the local wizard or witch is likely to count for more with the superstitious peasants than the influence of the priest or the doctor.

A contest between a witch and a wizard over the body of a dying peasant was recently reported from a village inhabited by Chuvashes, a Volga tribe which has only been recently and uncertainly reclaimed from paganism.

An old peasant, feeling very sick, sent for a doctor; but was immediately frightened by the threats of the local "shaman," or medicine-man, who threatened to bring immediate death on his head if he had anything to do with doctors. The peasant through his wife sent presents to the wizard, whom he implored for aid in his sickness. The wizard, following the common practice in such cases, ascribed the disease to the evil influence of the peasant's neighbors and promised to cure the patient and punish the neighbors.

The neighbors fell into a panic and called in a rival power in the shape of a witch from a neighboring village. The witch arrived and a furious competition in sorcery set in. The wizard jumped wildly about in the peasant's room, professed to talk with the wind through the chimney and ran around the yard on all fours, mumbling mysterious words which were supposed to destroy his competitor.

Mr. Morgan St. John, Hill St., who has been seriously ill, following a stroke of paralysis, several days ago, was slightly improved Friday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Carter, New Jasper, entertained the following guests Sunday, for dinner: Mr. and Mrs. Florence Binegar, and son, Robert; Mr. and Mrs. Ford Latham, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Latham, Miss Letha Henderickson, Mrs. Martha Tresslar and Mr. John Carter, Sr.

H. W. Cleaver, commercial manager for the company in Xenia, is still without definite official confirmation of the proposed rate changes, he said Friday.

Communication with the district office in Dayton failed to provide further knowledge or information on the rate boosts, he said.

Following are the proposed rate changes for Xenia and Yellow Springs:

Xenia—Increases per month as follows: Private branch exchange trunks, $7.50 to $9; residence, one-party, $2.75 to $3; residence, two-party, $2.25 to $2.50; residence four-party, $2 to $2.25.

Yellow Springs—Increases for each month: Business service, one-party, $3.50 to $4; business, two-party, $3 to $3.50; private branch exchange trunks, $5.25 to $6; residence one-party, $2.25 to $2.50; decrease per month: Rural business, $3 to $2.50; and rural residence, $2.25 to $2.

Yellow Springs has no private branch exchange trunk service and the increase will not affect the village, according to the announcement Friday.

But the witch was fully a match for him in black arts. She relied on frog and cat bones, muttering incantations over them and varying this process by howling in an unearthly voice. Besieged by jump wizard and howling witch the poor peasant gave up the struggle for existence and died. The villagers, however regarded this as a great triumph for the witch, who was showered with gifts, while the discredited wizard was compelled to quit the village in disgrace.

DR. W. B. CALDWELL
AT THE AGE OF 83

To Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Ill., a practicing physician for 47 years, it seemed cruel that so many constipated infants and children had to be kept "stirred up" and half sick by taking cathartic pills, tablets, salts, calomel and nasty oils.

While he knew that constipation was the cause of nearly all children's little ills, he constantly advised mothers to give only a harmless laxative which would help to establish natural bowel "regularity."

In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin mothers have a regulating laxative which they can depend upon whenever a child is constipated, bilious, feverish or sick from a cold or sour stomach. All children love its pleasant taste.

Buy a large 60-cent bottle at any store that sells medicine and just see for yourself how perfectly it cleanses and regulates the bowels of infants and children.

ILLNESS COMPELS CANCELLATION OF GAME WITH EATON

An epidemic of colds and grip sweeping East High School has engulfed six regular members of the school basketball team forcing postponement of the post-season game with Eaton High at the local gym Friday night.

With nearly all the athletes laid up by illness, a hurried cancellation was made.

With recovery of members of the team expected quickly, plans are already under way to schedule a mid-week game with Eaton in Xenia next week, probably Wednesday night, it is announced.

Followers of East High's destiny on the court this season are eagerly awaiting the coming clash with the Probable County toppers. Game is expected to prove the closest and most interesting of the current season.

XENIAN ARRESTED IN WILMINGTON FOR ALLEGED FORGERY

Edwin Shoemaker, 19, Xenia, was arrested by Police Chief Ben South of Wilmington Wednesday and is being held pending investigation into the alleged passing of a forged check at the W. P. McDermott grocery store in Wilmington last Saturday night.

Shoemaker is said to have admitted cashing the check forged with the name John Ellison.

Dressed in the attire of a farm hand, the Xenian entered the grocery Saturday and left a number of packages which he told McDermott he would return for later in the evening. He cashed a check for $22 with the proprietor drawn on the Citizens National Bank in Wilmington and departed. He failed to return for his packages.

The forgery was disclosed when it was discovered no man by the name of John Ellison carried an account at the bank.

Shoemaker and a companion whose name was not disclosed registered at a Wilmington Hotel Saturday and did not leave until Sunday afternoon. Xenia police have been asked to aid in conducting a search for the second youth who is believed to be implicated in the case.

Shoemaker's arrest came when he returned to Wilmington Wednesday and endeavored to persuade three Wilmington merchants to cash a similar check.

The youth has a police record and also served in the army for several years.

BOWLING

Side-line gossip is to the effect that next week will be a week of shakeups in the standing among the leaders in the city singles bowling tournament in progress on the Arcade alleys. Schedule will bring together many of the leaders in the three divisions.

Class A matches in the tournament were postponed Thursday night but unusually fine scores marked efforts of Class B and Class C pin pushers.

Earl Short turned in a nice 608 total to top three straight games from Pesavento in the Class B match, and Dan Jordan hung up a 236 score in the final brush while taking the odd game in three from W. C. Horner.

Class B results.
Pesavento 177 186 190
Short 213 195 200

Class C results.
W. C. Horner 146 166 182
D. Jordan 166 132 236

NEW YORK, March 18.—Jack Dempsey puts a fancy price on his service which he asks $100,000 down and a guarantee of $650,000 more for defending his heavyweight championship against Harry Wills.

You will hear repeated the old protest that such a sum is such and such times what the president of the United States gets for a year in one of the most responsible positions in the world.

Perhaps that rate of pay is out of all proportion with the time involved but you can't shoot a fellow for trying and it can't be denied that Dempsey is entitled to a fair percentage of what his appearance would draw at the gate.

Tex Rickard made an estimate recently that the Dempsey-Wills match, if it could be staged under favorable conditions without interference might draw as much as $2,000,000.

Some critics claim that it would be a bad fight and the public would not be interested but that isn't logical. The public always will be interested in a heavyweight championship fight and the attendance would be restricted only by the number of seats that would be available.

Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen, the French tennis queen, announced recently that she had been offered $20,000 by an American promoter to engage in a professional match in this country.

HELP YOURSELF TO HEALTH

Tired in the morning—tired all day

IN THE morning when vitality should be at its peak, she was listless, tired, aching in head and heart. She was young, yet she was defeated. The cold, vile hand of constipation was dragging her down, destroying her health, robbing her beauty and charm. Women! be rid of constipation. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is the sure, safe, pleasant way.

When Kellogg's ALL-BRAN travels through the system, its fiber remains unchanged. It can absorb and carry moisture through the intestinal tract and stimulate it to natural, healthy action. ALL-BRAN is what doctors call a bulk food.

Its delightful nutty flavor makes it good

as a cereal. Serve with milk or cream or with fresh or preserved fruit; sprinkle over other cereals or cook with hot cereals; use in soups, or make into the many recipes given on every package. If eaten regularly, it is guaranteed to bring permanent relief or the grocer returns the purchase price. Eat two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. It is a 100% bran product.

Kellogg's is the original and only ALL-BRAN. All grocers sell it. Leading hotels and restaurants serve it. Buy a package of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN today.

Glad They're On Babe Ruth's Team

"Wonder if we can do anything with these big league bats," two Yankee rookies are asking each other as they look at Babe Ruth's clubs at the training camp in St. Petersburg, Fla. The two are Art Jacobs (left), from the Saginaw, Mich., club, and Garland Braxton, who joined the Yanks late last season.

"SAVE MONEY AND LIVE WITHIN YOUR INCOME" IS PONZI'S EARNEST ADVICE

JACKSONVILLE, March 18.—"Don't be deluded with stories of how Ponzi made easy money. Look at me. I am sitting on a volcano."

In these very words, Charles Ponzi, the diminutive financial manipulator advises young men to avoid short cuts to wealth.

"Peace of mind," Ponzi says, "is worth all the money in the United States Treasury."

The little dark eyed Italian affirms it was only to pay back the $2,000,000 obligations of his first venture that he came to Florida to start his second "get-rich-quick" scheme in Florida real estate.

"That is why I must keep trying for big money," he says. "Only the power of money can save me." Ponzi's advice to young men is: "Be satisfied with your salary and learn to live within your income. Put part of your wages in the bank and keep building up the bank account. Don't draw out your money to take a plunge for quick wealth. Don't try to get rich quick."

"A fifty dollar a week job with contentment is worth more than all the money in the world," Ponzi seldom uses the pronoun "I" in conversation. He refers to himself as "Ponzi."

EVANGELIST IS HEARD AT CHURCH

The Rev. H. Elmer Pemberton, who is conducting evangelistic meetings at the Friends Church, Chestnut and High Sts., has had a wide experience as a pastor and evangelist. His work this winter has been in Illinois and Indiana.

REV. PEMBERTON
He has been especially successful in his work with the children in the schools and his messages deal with religion as an asset to a successful life.
A pleasing and helpful addition to the meetings is the special singing at each service. The Rev. Mr. Pemberton took as his theme Thursday night the scene of the resurrection of Lazarus. He said: "There is a definite time, a definite place and a definite people expecting a definite thing. It is a time when each person does his particular part that brings a definite result."
The stone must be rolled away from the door of the heart, according to the evangelist. "Doubt is often the stone that is hardest to roll away," he declared. He gave several illustrations of how the church should loose individuals for service that the work of the Lord might not be bound.

Correct weight can be yours

be shapely!
"I DO NOT want to be thin! I just want to be my right weight! I want these hollows filled out. I just want enough firm, plump flesh on my bones to fill out my figure."

Of course you do. You want a figure that you can dress your clothes on—not just hang them on! What's the use of having pretty clothes, if they just hang on you? And what would you say if you were told you could have the figure you want? A graceful, well rounded body—firm, solid flesh—just enough—just your right weight? You'd be mighty happy, wouldn't you?

Well, then, be happy—because you can have it! Put plenty of red cells in your blood and watch your weight go up to where you want it! That's what's the matter with you! Your blood is impoverished. You need more rich, red blood. S. S. S. is the thing to put red blood in your system. S. S. S. helps Nature build red-blood cells by the millions.

You just try S. S. S. and watch how quickly you begin to fill out your clothes. Notice your skin clear of unsightly blemishes—your appetite increase—strength come to flabby muscles and vim and vigor fill your whole system.

It's red blood that does it. And S. S. S. surely helps Nature build that red blood. S. S. S. is sold by all drug stores. The larger bottle is more economical.

PIONEER CARRIAGE MAKER SUCCEUMBS

Louis Tischer, 77, pioneer carriage maker of Dayton, and former resident of Spring Valley, died Thursday afternoon at 5:45 o'clock at his residence, 15 N. Robert boulevard, Dayton. Death was caused by pneumonia.

He is the father of Mrs. Lester Peterson, Spring Valley and is well known in that village where he formerly lived during the summer.

Mr. Tischer went to Dayton shortly before reaching the age of 20 and engaged in the carriage business. Later he became affiliated in the auto wood working business and was a carpenter and painter for thirty five years.

Besides his widow, he leaves two children, Ross Tischer, Dayton, and Mrs. Martha Peterson, of Spring Valley. One sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Newcomer, Bryan, O., and two brothers, Frank Tischer, Walkerton, Ind., also survive.

He was a member of First Baptist Church, Dayton, and the Crown Council, of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2:30 at the residence with interment in Woodland Cemetery, Dayton.

WILL USE PICTURES TO TEACH LESSONS

The Rev. William H. Tilford, pastor, Presbyterian Church, will draw pictures and draw lessons from the pictures Sunday evening at 7 o'clock, during the regular service.

The Rev. Mr. Tilford uses a specially constructed easel with an electric light attached. The drawing subjects are: "Wedding Bells," "Drifting," "The Mask," "Foundation Rock," and other minor pictures.

These are the thousands who are buying The New-Day JEWETT SIX

SALESMEN, doctors and business men find that The New-Day Jewett gets them through crowded traffic more quickly, easily and surely than any car they've ever driven.

Women who drive praise its remarkable ease of handling—and all women are enthusiastic over the roomy comfort of its tastefully appointed body.

Cautious drivers take the wheel of this New-Day Jewett with a new confidence—skillful drivers find in it a ready and quick response to their slightest wish that puts a new joy into driving.

Is it any wonder that even the enlarged facilities of the great new Paige factories should be taxed to capacity to supply the demand for this truly new-day motor car?

Drive this New-Day Jewett—just once—and you, too, will never be content with a less able car.
